

AMERICAN INDIAN SEARCH

American Indian Search
"Keeping Tribal Dollars in Tribal Communities"

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

AMERICAN INDIAN SEARCH DEVELOPS
INDIAN GOLF COURSE HIGHLIGHT

Date: January 13, 2008

Contact: info@a-isearch.com

West Sacramento, CA – American Indian Search (www.AmericanIndianSearch.com), the internet's largest tribe and Indian business directory launched an Indian Golf program to highlight American Indian golf courses and the businesses they support.

Primary founder, Joseph Brown Thunder, designed the site, now containing over 8,000 business listings, to enhance business opportunities for both small and large American Indian businesses, including golf courses and pro-shops.

"American Indian Golf has exploded in the last 10 years," said Brown Thunder. "There are more than 50 tribal-owned courses in 16 states, and at least another 20 or so are planned. With so many holes in play, yet little publicity, we decided not only to highlight these tribal operations but the Indian companies and groups that cater to this select market."

Groups and organizations may list their mission, contact information and web link free of charge on American Indian Search, or explore tiered memberships for enhanced marketing.

For more information or to list your business visit www.AmericanIndianSearch.com.

About American Indian Search: AmericanIndianSearch.com is a directory that brings businesses and organizations together. The mission of American Indian Search is "Keeping tribal dollars in tribal communities."

For more information contact American Indian Search at www.AmericanIndianSearch.com

###